Volunteers came out in great numbers on the Saturday before the Martin Luther King holiday to plant, restore and clean up Linda Mar beach in honor of the slain civil rights leader. About 1,500 plants found a new home and the bike path was cleared of Ox Tongue and other invasives. Volunteers also eradicated Cape Ivy. Clean-up crews collected more than 90 pounds of trash and another 30 pounds of recycleables. See letter to the editor thanking volunteers in this week's Letters to the Editor section.
