The Pacifica Beach Coalition is seeking new members who care about the environment and wish to make a difference for the earth and the ocean. If you would like to help us, please join us at our upcoming meeting on Thursday, Feb. 9, at 6 p.m. at the Pacifica Library, 104 Hilton Way. Currently we are planning for the upcoming Earth Day of Action event for the City of Pacifica which has engaged almost 20,000 volunteers since 2005 to pick up litter and restore habitat in Pacifica.

There are volunteer opportunities for all of the skills and interests you have. You could be a site captain team member for one of our beach, street, creek cleanups or participate with a team for media, community, and school outreach.

Or you could share your clerical, web design, educational leadership, or other skills. The Pacifica Beach Coalition is a group of citizens concerned for the ocean and environment who meet monthly and work in whatever capacity possible. We have fun and make a difference in Pacifica and beyond by engaging and inspiring people to pick it up, conserve, and become more sustainable so that we can preserve and protect our ocean and its inhabitants.

Your skills and your voice are always welcome.
